Background

On April 10, some PTRC members and other volunteers hosted a cleanup day at the Crepeau Nature Preserve. Volunteers completed work at both the northern and southern entrances plus the area near the bridge. Volunteers removed buckthorn and burdock in multiple areas of the park.

The PTRC is planning a second cleanup day for May 8 at the Crepeau Nature Preserve. For the second cleanup day, there is still a significant amount of buckthorn to be cut and removed. If you are interested in volunteering, please contact John, Rich or Joe.
